Contact Person

Christian joined permitto in 2024 as a partner to bring our solutions to the French market. He has amassed a wealth of experience in leading for HR and Sales large scale transformation programs for established organizations in the automotive business and the energy sector.

As a consultant, he has extended his scope to new industries, medium sized Companies and family businesses which he loves.

He has done this in all kinds of contexts in France and around the world, in times of growth, and against stormy conditions. He is a strategic thinker, results-driven, energized by moving organisations to the high performance zone.

What he likes the most is setting organizations for success, shaping and developing high performance environments. He is doing so end-to-end, covering all facets, from strategy to operations.

He is a people person, fascinated on how to deliver performance by building alignment together with the different stakeholders. He is usually described as highly capable to connect the dots across cultures and bridging disciplines from the shop floor to the Board room, and all along the value chain.

He operates with value in mind and help organizations emerge stronger. At a time of big change, he is innovative in the way to operate. He is coming with fresh thinking and a zestful approach.
